Goals and Objectives of ANSOLE

ANSOLE promotes research, education and vocational training in renewable energy (RE) among Africans and non-Africans who are interested in the well-being of Africa.

ANSOLE endorses the use of RE to the benefit of the social and economic development of Africa as well as environmental protection by:

- Education and vocational training of African technicians, scientists, experts and students
- Exchange of students and visiting scientists
- Mutual research work with various funding institutions
- Joint publications
- Organizing workshops, conferences and meetings in Africa
- Organizing and implementing programs on RE for post-graduate students
- Promoting capacity building in the use of RE in Africa for all
- Setting-up of a database on scientists, scientific institutions and businesses operating in RE sector in Africa
- Supporting the establishment of regional vocational training and education centres on RE in various regions of Africa

To achieve these goals, ANSOLE is ready to cooperate with already existing initiatives

Structure of ANSOLE

- Coordination office
 - Advisor board
- Regional representatives
- National representatives
